Sen. McManus applauds funding for McBain alternative energy study

LANSING – State Sen. Michelle McManus today congratulated the city of McBain for receiving a Community Development Block Grant to explore alternative energy sources for local manufacturing and processing plants.

“I applaud the city of McBain for seeking ways to use their resources more efficiently,” said McManus, R-Lake Leelanau. “This grant will fund important research that will help the city improve its energy efficiency.”

The city received $19,000 to conduct an alternative energy feasibility planning study. The study will explore methods of recapturing energy from the McBain Power Station for use by industrial and processing firms in the city. It also will determine the best way to tap into the power station cycle to capture energy and transmit it off-site.
